Tradeport East Business Center substation under construction

LIBERTY COUNTY, GA - Georgia Transmission is currently constructing a 100 megawatt (MW) electric substation in Tradeport East Business Center that will serve existing and future customers in the park and eastern Liberty County.

The new substation will also enable more reliable electric service due to redundancy. The redundancy will be achieved by the Cay Creek substation serving as relief for the Tradeport East substation when necessary.

“The Liberty County Development Authority (LCDA) was pleased to donate the 1.954 acres for the substation, because it will benefit Tradeport East and eastern Liberty County,” states Ronald E. Tolley, chief executive officer of the LCDA. “In addition, our land donation ensures the substation will be accessible to both Coastal Electric Cooperative and Georgia Power, which will provide prospects in Tradeport East with a customer choice option.”

The substation is anticipated to be complete by the end of the year.
